

PROJECT MANAGEMENT ACADEMY

February 27-March 2, 2012
Washington, D.C.

Space is Limited. Registration cut-off: Feb. 18

Thriving in today's challenging transportation construction market requires industry professionals to have fresh project management skills that will help them understand the latest industry tools and innovations. The Project Management Academy \(PMA\) hosted by the ARTBA Foundation's "Transportation Builder Institute" will teach the latest technologies and techniques needed to stay on top of this constantly evolving field. PMA covers eight core areas:

- Resource Management
- Planning and Scheduling
- Construction Documentation
- Management and Leadership
- Safety
- Industry Ethics
- Client Relations
- Team Building

To register, please complete the form on the back of this brochure, or contact ARTBA's Holly Bolton at 202.289.4434; hbolton@artba.org.

"The instructors were very knowledgeable ... I was able to take away information from each topic that will prove invaluable, and I would recommend this program to other managers..."

—Scott Wimble, Senior Project Manager & PMA Graduate
